This Tariff also contains Access Ordering regulations and charges that are applicable when these services are ordered or modified by the Customer.
- 1.2 The provision of such services by the Company as set forth in this Tariff does not constitute a joint undertaking with the Customer for the furnishing of any service.

EXCEPTIONS TO MEI TELECOM, INC. TARIFF FCC NO. 1 - SECTION 2:2. General Regulations2.4.1 Payment of Rates Charges and Deposits

A security deposit will not exceed an amount equal to the estimated total for current rates and charges times the average of at least two previous months usage but not more than six months of usage.

A security deposit or an additional security deposit may be required from an existing customer at any time following installation of service when: 1) the customer has established a history of late payment to the Company; 2) the customer's gross monthly billing has increased beyond the amount initially used to estimate a security deposit, if applicable; and/or 3) the Company becomes aware that the customer's credit worthiness has fallen below commercially acceptable levels as determined by an independent credit rating or reporting service. Such security deposit will not exceed an amount equal to the total rates and charges for two months of the customer's actual billing for the service (s) to that customer may be discounted in accordance with the terms specified in 2.1.8 (A), preceding.

Adjustment of charges will be made when billing disputes are brought to the attention of and verified by the Company as set forth in this section. Except as otherwise expressly provided in a written contract between a Customer and the Company, all requests for refunds or adjustments must be made in writing to the Company within one (1) year after the date when the bill was rendered that the customer seeks to dispute. No refunds or adjustments will be made for billing disputes that occurred more than one (1) year before the date the Customer makes a written request to the Company for an adjustment. If the request for a refund or adjustment is made by a current customer of the Company, the Company reserves the right to provide any adjustment due the Customer as set forth in this Section in whole or in part by a bill credit against charges for current or future services.

Except as otherwise provided in a written contract between the Customer and the Company, the Customer will be liable for any unbilled or under-billed service for two years from the date a bill for that service was rendered, whichever is later. This limitation does not apply when the service was obtained by the Customer by fraud or deception.

ACCESS SERVICE

EXCEPTIONS TO MEI TELECOM, INC. TARIFF FCC NO. 1 - SECTION 1313. Additional Engineering, Additional Labor and Miscellaneous Services13.4 IntraLATA Presubscription

Pursuant to the Michigan Public Service Commission Order in Case No. U-11961:

- (A) IntraLATA presubscription is the process by which end user customers may select and designate to the Company an intrastate intraLATA Interexchange carrier to access, without an access code, for intrastate intraLATA calls. This intraLATA Interexchange Carrier is referred to as the end user's pre-designated intraLATA PIC.
- (B) End users may select one of the following options at no charge:
- indicate a intraLATA primary PIC for all of its lines,
 - indicate a different intraLATA PIC for each of its lines.

Only one intraLATA PIC or No-PIC may be selected for each line or lines terminating in the same trunk group.

End users may designate that they do not want to presubscribe to any intraLATA Interexchange Carrier. End users that select No-PIC must arrange this designation by directly notifying the Company's business office. This choice will require the end user to dial an access code (101XXXX) for all intrastate IntraLATA calls.

After the end user's initial selection of a pre-designated intraLATA PIC or the designation that they do not want to presubscribe to any intraLATA PIC (No-PIC) for any change in selection after conversion to Equal Access in the serving end office, a nonrecurring charge as set forth in 17.4.4 (I) following, applies.

(C) A presubscription change can be done either electronically or manually.

1. Electronic Changes:

Changes submitted by access customers to the ILEC using a mechanized interface to the ILEC's service order entry system or other electronic processing systems, including magnetic tape, are considered electronically submitted.

2. Manual Changes:

Changes submitted via fax, e-mail, regular mail, or telephoned in by either an access customer or end-user customers are manually submitted changes. If a person is required to intervene in the initial setup, it is considered to be a manual process. All intrastate intraLATA changes are considered manual.

(D) The end user will be allowed a six-month period from the date of the installation of their Telephone Exchange Service to select a PIC or No-PIC one time at no charge.

(E) If the new end user fails to designate an intraLATA Interexchange Carrier as its PIC prior to the date of installation of Telephone Exchange service, the Company will (1) default the end user line to No-PIC which will require the end user to dial an access code (101XXXX) for all intrastate IntraLATA calls, or (2) block the end user from intrastate intraLATA calling. The end user will be notified which option will be applied if it fails to make an intraLATA PIC or No-PIC selection. A blocked or No-PIC designated end user may designate an initial PIC one time at no charge, if it is requested within six months after the installation of Telephone Exchange Service.
